

Membership & Rewards Policy

This store recognizes each brand's own free loyalty program. Nike Membership and adiClub are separate programs with different mechanics — both are explained below.

Document ID: MEM-POL-005	Effective: January 1, 2026	Version: 1.4
--------------------------	----------------------------	--------------

1. Overview

Because this store carries authentic products from both Nike and adidas, membership benefits are tied to each brand's own account system rather than a single unified program. You can hold a Nike Membership, an adiClub account, or both — sign in with the relevant brand account at checkout to apply that brand's benefits to your order. Both programs are completely free to join, with no subscription fee or minimum spend required.

2. Nike Membership

Nike Membership is not a points- or tier-based program. Every member gets full access to the same set of benefits immediately upon signing up, with no spending threshold to unlock anything.

- Free standard shipping on Nike orders of $50 or more.
- 60-day wear test on eligible Nike purchases (see Return Policy).
- Receipt-less returns — your account order history serves as proof of purchase.
- Early access to select new releases and Member-exclusive products.
- Personalized offers and a birthday reward each year.
- Access to Nike Training Club and Nike Run Club content through the same login.

3. adiClub

adiClub is a four-level, points-based program. You earn points on eligible purchases and other activities, and your accumulated points determine your current level and the rewards available to you.

Level	Points Required	Key Benefits
Level 1	0 (free to join)	Free shipping & returns, welcome bonus, member-only product access
Level 2	1,000 points	Level 1 benefits plus improved offers and early access windows
Level 3	4,000 points	Level 2 benefits plus priority customer service
Level 4	12,000 points	Level 3 benefits plus premium event access and top-tier priority access

Members earn 10 adiClub points per $1 spent on eligible purchases. Points count toward both your level (which never decreases once reached) and a separate spendable balance that can be redeemed for percentage-off vouchers — points balances required for vouchers vary by offer. Points can also be earned through activities such as workout tracking, writing product reviews, and completing your profile, not purchases alone.

4. Redeeming adiClub Points

- Points-to-Spend can be exchanged for percentage-off discount vouchers, applied at checkout on adidas orders.
- Redeeming points for a voucher does not reduce your Level Points balance — your tier progress is unaffected by spending points.
- Points have no cash value and cannot be redeemed for cash under any circumstance.
- Referring a friend who joins adiClub and completes a purchase earns both parties a discount voucher.

5. Points and Returns

If an adidas item is returned, the adiClub points earned on that item are deducted from your balance once the return is processed. Nike Membership has no points system, so returns of Nike items do not affect your membership status.

6. Account and Eligibility

- Each program is limited to one active account per individual.
- Membership benefits apply only to purchases of that brand made while signed in to the corresponding account at checkout — benefits cannot be applied retroactively to a past guest-checkout order.
- Either membership can be closed at any time from your account settings; closing an account forfeits any unredeemed points or benefits associated with it.

Membership mechanics reflect each brand's own current, published loyalty program — Nike Membership's flat, non-tiered benefit structure and adidas's adiClub points/level system — as offered directly by Nike, Inc. and adidas AG. Program details, point values, and tier thresholds are set by each brand and may change without notice; this document reflects terms believed accurate as of the effective date above.