

Return Policy

Because we sell authentic Nike and adidas footwear, return windows follow each brand's own published policy. Read the section for the brand you purchased before starting a return.

Document ID: RET-POL-002	Effective: January 1, 2026	Version: 2.3
--------------------------	----------------------------	--------------

1. General Return Conditions

- A valid order confirmation email or account order history record is accepted as proof of purchase; a printed receipt is not required.
- Refunds are issued to the original payment method. If the original method is unavailable (e.g. an expired card), store credit is issued instead.
- Refunds are typically processed within 5–10 business days after the returned item is received and inspected at our warehouse.
- Items purchased at a Nike Clearance Store or an adidas Outlet/Factory location follow different, more restrictive terms — see Section 4.

2. Nike Products — 60-Day Wear Trial

Most Nike footwear and apparel purchased through this store can be returned or exchanged within 60 days of delivery (or of the in-store purchase date, for store purchases). Nike frames this as a genuine wear trial rather than an unworn-only policy: shoes that have been reasonably tested — including worn outdoors — are still eligible, provided the return isn't excessive or abusive. Signed-in Nike Members receive a free prepaid return label; guests are responsible for return shipping costs.

Exceptions: Nike By You custom footwear follows the standard 60-day window, but customized elements specific to your design are not eligible for exchange. Nike x LEGO sets must be returned sealed and unopened.

3. adidas Products — 30-Day Return Window

Most adidas footwear and apparel can be returned within 30 days of delivery. adiClub members receive free return shipping and a free return label automatically; the window is extended to 60 days during the November–December holiday period each year.

adidas Product Type	Return Window	Condition Required
Standard footwear & apparel	30 days from delivery	Unworn, original packaging, tags attached
Performance running shoes	30 days from delivery	Any condition — indoor or outdoor test runs accepted
Confirmed / Hype releases	7–14 days from delivery	Unworn, all original tags and packaging intact
Holiday season purchases	Extended to 60 days	Standard condition rules apply

The 30-day, any-condition trial applies specifically to adidas performance running shoe lines and does not extend to lifestyle, Originals, basketball, or training footwear, which must be returned unworn in original packaging.

4. Items Not Eligible for Return

- Items marked "Final Sale" on the product page at the time of purchase.
- Nike Clearance Store purchases (non-returnable and not eligible for price adjustment, per Nike's clearance-store policy).
- adidas items sold as "Money Can't Buy" (MCBP) promotional products.
- Face coverings and other hygiene-sensitive items, for health and safety reasons.
- Gift cards.

5. How to Start a Return

- Log in to your account and open Order History, then select "Start a Return" next to the relevant order.
- Choose a reason for the return; a prepaid shipping label or QR code will be generated based on the brand and your membership status.
- Pack the item securely, ideally in its original box, and drop it off at the specified carrier location within the timeframe shown (Nike: 21 days to drop off after the label is generated; adidas: 10 days after a return is initiated).
- You'll receive an email once the return is scanned in, and again once your refund is issued.

6. In-Store Returns

Online orders for either brand can generally be returned at any of our physical store locations with the order confirmation shown on your phone or printed. In-store purchases must be returned in person and cannot be mailed back. Nike Clearance Store and adidas Outlet purchases can only be returned at the same type of clearance/outlet location.

Return terms mirror the current published policies of Nike, Inc. and adidas AG for products sold under each respective brand, layered with this store's own operational terms (proof of purchase, refund timing, in-store logistics). Manufacturer policies are subject to change; the version in effect on the delivery date of your order applies. This document should be read alongside the Exchange Policy and Warranty Policy.